A Republican paper says: "We told you that Roosevelt is a man that would do things." However, Wall Streeters never believed that he could do such things to them.

Nunsio Nasi, former Minister of Public Instruction in Italy, is an imperial grafter. However, that doesn't make him any better than one of our ordinary plebian grafters.

Professor Brander Matthew of Columbia University, New York, has succeeded in introducing some new reform spelling. We don't learn how to spell according to simplified spelling before we are up against some new system. After a while anybody's spelling will be the proper stuph.

The Hon. William J. Bryan's formal announcement that he will accept the Democratic nomination for the Presidency if it is tendered to him, but that he will not seek the nomination nor make a fight for it, is just about as we have considered all along was Col. Bryan's position. In the meantime if any other fellow can cut any better figure in the limelight of availability and the calcium light of conspicuousness let him cut his didos.

The Chattanooga Times petinently remarks: "It is said President Roosevelt is very much disgusted with Chairman Parsons of the New York Republican Executive Committee on account of the Hearst fusion fiasco. Possibly if the president had shown his disgust before the fusion was entered into, Parsons and his party might have been saved the present humiliation." This fable teaches that the President should have kicked beforehand or forever hereafter held his peace, for fear some man would say that no kick would have been registered if Parsons had won.

NEGRO IN HAY PILE

Library of Congress

PUNCHED WITH PITCHFORK

Mr. H. W. Konig Profited by Experience With Robbery Last August and Landed Would-be Burglar Last Night.

Profiting by his experience of the latter part of last August when his store at Fourth and Bladen streets was robbed of $27 in cash by some one who had evidently secreted himself in the rear of the establishment and then had gone forth to plunder the establishment after it had been closed for the day, Mr. H. W. Konig, a well known grocer, last night as he was preparing to leave his place of business about 9 o'clock, went on a successful search of the premises, as he had been accustomed to do nightly since the first robbery in August, to see that no one was locked up in the store again.

His search had progressed as far as the rear of the building near a back door leading to an alleyway when he picked up a pitchfork and began to prod into a pile of hay that lay on the floor there. The hay was not very deep and as time and again he drove the fork through the pile, he became more and more certain that his search was fruitless. Finally, as he came to the rear of the pile, in the darkness, there was an upheaval of considerable proportions as the fork went true. The form of a very much surprised and a greatly agitated negro rose to the surface and the proprietor of the store was none the less excited than was the negro. Dealing with burglars is no child's play on any occasion, so Mr. Konig resorted to heroic measures at once and laid the negro out with a blow from the fork handle. When he had been struck at first he uttered not a sound, believing that discretion was the better part of valor but when Mr. Konig dealt him one between the eyes he let out a cry of distress and the proprietor of the store went to the front and called a policeman. When they went back to investigate, all hands were much taken back when they found the would-be burglar had both his legs off about the knee. As he rose from the hay, Mr. Konig, of course, had no way of knowing of the black man's affliction and he immediately put him to the bad until the officers could arrive.

A message was sent to the police station and Sergeant C. S. Burnett took the injured man to the hospital in the patrol wagon. It was found that the negro had suffered a scalp wound about two inches long on top of the head and a little to one side. The surgeon who dressed the wound was unable to say whether this was inflicted by the pitchfork as Mr. Konig drove it down through the pile of hay or whether it was laid open when the excited groceryman dealt him a blow across the head. At any rate the negro will be laid up at the hospital for a day or two and could not be returned to the station house last night. His wound, however, is in no wise dangerous.

The negro told Sergeant Burnett that his name was William Henry James, about 25 years old, and that he lived way out on Campbell street, toward the cemetery. He said that both his legs were cut off by a railroad train at Goldsboro some time ago. Explaining his presence in the store, he said that a "man who worked there" had told him that afternoon to go back on the hay and lie down as he had told him that he was sick. This story is not credited by Sergeant Burnett, who thinks that the negro secreted himself in the store at the behest of some other negro, who was to be let in through the back door when the place was closed for the night or that the negro himself intended to rob the store. Mr. Konig says that he never saw the colored man before that he knows of and that he doesn't see how he could have walked in the back door during the day without some one hearing him. The nubs of his legs are padded for walking, however, and it is suspected that this affliction stood him in good stead in entering the place.

The store of Mr. Konig was robbed the latter part of last August while the proprietor was absent at the Jamestown Exposition and the business was in charge of a clerk. The amount of $27 in cash was taken from where it had been secreted by the clerk and several hams were found in the rear alleyway upon which the door opened, the thief after securing these probably having dropped them on account of the burden and liability of being caught. After the robbery in this same hay pile, the form of a man was outlined where he had been asleep during the night, the exit having been by the same door through which James no doubt expected to pass out last night. Since he was robbed in August, Mr. Konig has been sticking a pitchfork through that same pile of hay but until last night, his precaution had availed him nothing. The capture of the would-be thief is unique in the annals of the Wilmington police, not alone from the personality of the prisoner but in the manner in which he was caught. If the negro is able, he will probably be given trial before the Mayor at noon today.

WEEK'S PORT STATISTICS

Despite the falling off for a few days when the market showed special depression, the receipts of cotton at the port of Wilmington for the week ended yesterday, according to the stock report posted yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce, were nearly double what they were same week last season. For the week this year 21,223 bales came in against only 12,787 same period last season. The receipts since September 1st have been 241,635 bales against only 181,692 up to the same date in 1906. The exports for the week were 27,019 bales against 28,477 same week last season. The exports for the year have been 206,427 against 163,445 same period in 1906.

Of date yesterday there were 18,440 bales ashore and 16,345 afloat, making 34,785 bales ashore and afloat yesterday against only 17,325 on the same date last season. Of the amount ashore and afloat last year 6,560 bales were ashore and 10,765 were afloat. The British steamer Fashoda, which brought cargo of fertilizer constituents to this port and loaded with cotton for the return trip, cleared last night for Bremen. She leaves four steamers at the compress, all of which are being stuffed full of the fleecy staple as fast as the compress can turn it out.

The receipts of naval stores as shown from the stock report for the week ended yesterday have been slightly in excess of those of same week last season, with the exception of tar and crude turpentine in which there was a slight falling off. There were 373 casks spirits against 330 same week last season; 2,465 barrels rosin against 1,523; 532 barrels tar against 555 and 416 barrels crude turpentine against 613 barrels same week last season. The crop year receipts show a falling off in all items except tar in which there is an increase of nearly double.

The schooner Bayard Hopkins, Captain Lynch, arrived in port yesterday from Philadelphia with fertilizers for the Wilmington Compress and Warehouse Company and the schooner Eliza A. Scribner arrived from New York with tankage for the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company. Both vessels are reported by C. D. Maffitt.

The schooners Harriet C. Kerlin, Captain Cochran, and the J. S. Hoskins, Captain Gayle, outward bound with cargoes, sailed from Southport yesterday for New York. The schooner Aetna is also at Southport bound out with cargo from the Cape Fear Lumber Company, but is awaiting foresails before proceeding.

The steam yacht Vesta, with party on board bound from New York to Florida, put in at Southport yesterday evening for harbor and asked to be reported.

COLORED LIFE INSURANCE

Sun Mutual Company Organized at Fayetteville, N. C.

The Fayetteville Observer of yesterday afternoon has the following of interest:

"Ten of the leading colored citizens of Fayetteville recently got together and organized a life insurance company, and the Secretary of State has granted it a charter, after it had been approved by the Insurance Commissioner. The new campany is named The Sun Mutual Life Insuanrce Company, and the following officers have been elected: Dr. E. E. Smith, president; Rev. J. G. Smith, vice president; Dr. B. H. Henderson, secretary; Thos. H. McNeill, treasurer; Rev. J. S. Settle, general manager; W. T. Haunt, assistant general manager and superintendent of agencies. Bishop J. W. Hood, Dennis Tysor, R. W. Thaggard and J. G. Smith were elected as an executive committee. The company is now engaged in getting the required 200 applications before policies issue.

"It will issue sick, accident and death benefit policies. The colored people are proud of their institution, and it promises to be a great success."

Retail Merchants Organize.

The Fayetteville Observer of yesterday afternoon says that a large number of the retail merchants of that city will meet Monday evening for the purpose of organizing a Retail Merchants' Association. One of the principal objects of the organization will be the refunding of cash fares to out-of-town purchasers of amounts above a certain figure. This plan has worked exceedingly well in other cities of the State notably Charlotte and Greensboro.

TO CALL ELECTION

AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Announced That 388 of Required 800 Affixed Their Signatures—No Date Named For Probable Expression of Voters.

Following an address by Evangelist Mordecai F. Ham to a mass meeting of men at the First Baptist Church last night in connection with a series of revival services that have been in progress there during the past two weeks, a sensation was sprung when printed copies of a petition to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the city asking that a prohibition election be called in Wilmington, were circulated through the audience and liberally signed. It was announced soon after the ushers returned with the lists that 388 qualified voters had signed the request for an election and this announcement was greeted with applause.

That this move by the prohibition forces had been in contemplation for some time was evidenced by the fact that the petitions are printed and ruled for signatures and it became known when they were handed out that the promoters of the revival at the Church had only been waiting the psychological moment to spring them. A large number of people had gathered in the auditorium of the church in response to the general invitations sent out to the men of the city to hear the saloon question discussed at this special meeting and after the address in which the prohibition issue was made prominent from a moral point of view the evangelist asked all in the audience who favored prohibition to stand up. The response was overwhelmingly in the affirmative and Mr. Ham then read the following petition:

"To the Honorable Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Wilmington, North Carolina:

"We, the undersigned registered voters, who were duly registered for the preceding municipal election in the City of Wilmington, North Carolina, which was held on the 7th day of May, A. D., 1907, respectfully petition your Honorable Board to call a local option election, as provided for by the Laws of the State of North Carolina, and order an election after thirty days' notice, as provided for by Section 2069 of the Revisal of the Laws of North Carolina, 1905, and Chapter 709 of the Public Laws of North Carolina, Session 1907, for the purpose of determining:

"First. Whether intoxicating liquors shall be manufactured in the City of Wilmington, North Carolina.

"Second. Whether intoxicating liquors shall be sold in the City of Wilmington, North Carolina.

"And we furthed petition your Honorable Body to do all other things authorized by law for holding said election and declaring the result thereof:"

The ushers were then requested to pass through the audience of men, the entire lower floor of the auditorium having been reserved for them, and those who were willing to suit their actions in rising to the words of the evangelist in calling for an expression on prohibition, were requested to affix their signatures to the petition. This required some time and when the count of the names was finally completed, it was ascertained that 388 qualified voters at the municipal election last May had signed the papers.

It was later stated by those at the head of the movement that the petitions would be still further circulated with all possible dispatch and that they were confident there would be no difficulty in securing the required number of signers at the request of which it is incumbent under the law for the Board of Aldermen to call the election. The verbiage of the petition bears all the ear marks of one versed in the law and no doubt all the legal points involved in the case have been carefully inquired into.

The election will, of course, be held under the Watts Law of 1905 and as amended by the last Legislature giving the voters an opportunity of expressing themselves upon all three sides of the case: Prohibition, dispensary and saloons. It will be noted from the petitions signed here, that the question of a dispensary will not enter into the subject at all.

Under the Watts Law one-third of the qualified voters at the preceding municipal election are required to sign any call upon the Board of Aldermen for a local option election. At the last municipal election the registration was considerably cut down in order to pass the street, water and sewerage bonds and the total number of qualified voters upon those questions in the five wards of the city was 2,395. Of this number an even 800 will be required to sign the petitions for an election before one can be called. The number of names received last night is not quite one-half the number required. It is expected that the petition will certainly be ready for presentation to the Board of Aldermen at its regular meeting in December, as it is doubtful if the Board could entertain a petition at a special meeting. Then the lists would have to be referred to a committee to ascertain if the names thereon were of qualified voters at the last municipal election. This would require some time and unless a special meeting of the Board were called to receive the report of this committee in the meantime, the question would be deferred until the January meeting. Should the election be called 30 days notice would be necessary and the whole matter might be drawn out until Spring. An election of the kind cannot be held within 60 days of any other regularly called election, but this would not enter into the question here as the next regular election is not until November of next year. Should the efforts for an election succeed and the town go "dry" the date for the closing of the saloons could hardly be before the first of July next year, at the end of the six months term for which licenses are payable to the city and county.

For once it would seem that the waterworks question has been overshadowed and for the next sixty days or ninety days there is every indication that the town will be plunged into another very bitter campaign such as was the one here on the 28th of July 1904, when the efforts of the anti-saloonists were for the establishment of a dispensary. This was defeated by a majority of 690, only 611 votes having been cast for the dispensary and 1,301 against out of a total registered vote of 2,358. Of that number registered, however, only 1,912 voted. At one time it was announced that the anti-saloon forces would wait for the State Legislature to declare State prohibition, but the indications now are that the town is at least to have a vote on the subject. Some saloon men say that they welcome this, for they are confident of winning on an issue of high license and strict regulation as the best solution of the problem of handling the traffic, and that if they win in this election, the State Legislature will hardly fly in the face of the expressed will of the community at the polls and "dry up" the town. In the absence of an election by the people, they say, the Legislature might feel warranted in enacting a State prohibition law, but they would hardly want to take from the people the right of self government.

AS TO LETTUCE GROWING

Interesting Bulletin by State Board of Agriculture on Industry in the East—At Fayetteville and Newbern.

The State Department of Agriculture has just issued a bulletin entitled "Lettuce Growing in North Carolina," by State Horticulturist W. K. Hunt. The bulletin covers thoroughly all phases of lettuce growing, is handsomely illustrated and will prove of both interest and profit to growers throughout the State. A copy of the bulletin will be mailed free of charge to all farmers upon application to the Department.

The bulletin says that this industry has become important in the State and that the product of North Carolina grown in covered frames in Winter is the finest of its kind, bringing at all points the highest prices, though it goes to market in competition with that produced in Florida and the greenhouses of northern cities. When this crop goes forward from here it takes precedence over lettuce grown further South. Fayetteville, Wilmington and Newbern are now the centers of the industry. Wilmington is furtherest south and with a very mild climate there, much lettuce is grown in covered frames and without heat while still more is grown in open fields with no protection whatever. Newbern is noted for large lettuce outfits, where it is forced by steam heating and irrigation.

At Fayetteville the industry is unique, being largely confined to small lots and parcels of land in and around town. From these centers the industry is extended to many other localities. Lettuce has proved to be the best paying truck crop in Eastern North Carolina and the steam heated and irrigated bed will bring from $10 to $15 per acre. Truckers say that it is this crop which makes up their losses and other ventures in that they say the heated and irrigated beds have always paid good dividends.

Sixty Present for the "Hour."

Sixty children, a large majority of them between 10 and 14 years of age, were delightfully entertained at the public library from 4 to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon with the story of the "Golden Fleece," the occasion having been the "Children's Hour," a feature of Library work which has become so popular. The story was most interestingly and charmingly told by Miss Waddell, the librarian, and the young people were quite profuse in expressing their appreciation.

—An excellent opportunity will be afforded Delgado people to hear Evangelist Ham tomorrow morning at the First Baptist Church. Arrangements have been made for two suburban cars to be in waiting at the station at the mill at 9:30 A. M. and all who desire to attend the service will be brought in free of charge.

SONS OF REVOLUTION

OAK CITY GUARDS TO DISBAND

Vacancy Will be Left in Third Regiment of State National Guard. Educational Affairs in Scotland County.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 15.—This afternoon at 4:30 o'clock there assembled in the Senate chamber of the State House many members of the North Carolina Society Sons of The Revolution and many prominent State officials and citizens of Raleigh for the ceremony attending the presentation of a splendid oil portrait of Samuel Johnston, famous Revolutionary patriot, former Governor of North Carolina and member of the United States Senate. The portrait was presented to the State through the North Carolina Society Sons of the Revolution, the presentation address being delivered by Mr. F. H. Busbee, one of the officers of the society. He paid a splendid tribute to the life and official career of Johnston.

Governor Glenn was to have accepted the portrait in behalf of the State, but he being absent in Baltimore, the acceptance was by Associate Justice W. A. Hoke of the North Carolina Supreme Court. This address was ornate and eminently fitting the occasion and the distinguished speaker. The affair proved most enjoyable. The portrait will be given a place of honor in the State House either in the executive office of the Governor or in the Senate chamber.

The Society decided to present to the State at its next annual session an oil portrait of Colonial Governor Alexander Martin. The Society appointed a special committee to memorialize the Legislature for a fireproof building for historical records and the relics of the State and State library. F. H. Busbee is chairman of the committee. Old officers were reelected, the principal ones being: Thos. S. Kenan, president; F. H. Busbee, vice president; Marshall Delancy Haywood, secretary.

While no official announcement has been made to that effect, it is known that the Oak City Guards, Company K, Third Regiment, Raleigh, is to be disbanded very soon. In fact, that company is already to all intents and purposes disbanded. This leaves Raleigh with only one military company, the Raleigh Light Infantry, which served so admirably last Monday under command of Capt. W. F. Moody, as escort for Governor Glenn on the Chamber of Commerce Special over the Norfolk & Southern to Washington, N. C. There is as yet no movement on foot to organize a second company for Raleigh to take the place of the one just passing out. It seems probable that there will be none, and in that event there will be an opportunity for some other town within the territory embraced by the Third Regiment and now without a military company to form a company to take its place. The designation of the town that may carry off this prize rests with the Governor and the Adjutant General.

Superintendent of Public Instruction, L. M. Blue, of Scotland county, sends official notice to the State Department of Education that another local tax election has been carried in his county, and that a very gratifying degree of progress is being made in educational matters in Scotland.

NEED FOR SUB-TREASURY EMPHASIZED.

While various measures for relief of the present financial situation are being discussed, and some means for securing an equilibrium of the money supply in the various sections of the country is desirable, it may occur that the establishment of sub-treasuries where they are most needed will largely remedy the situation. More sub-treasuries in the cotton and wheat producing parts of the country would no doubt be of great benefit when the crop movements begin. At any rate the need of sub-treasuries has been recently emphasized, and upon that matter the Savannah Morning News says:

"Savannah bankers have appointed a committee to open communication with the Secretary of the Treasury for the purpose of getting him to deposit with Savannah National banks a part of the money he proposes to distribute among national banks in the South and West. From the best information obtainable the Western banks have been dealt with more liberally by the Treasury Department than the banks of the South. While it is true that the wheat of the West is helpful in bringing about normal financial conditions, because it is being exchanged in Europe for gold, it is doubtful if it contributes as much as cotton does. Cotton being such a large factor in the present financial situation, the Treasury Department should be extremely liberal in suppying the South with currency with which to move the cotton crop.

"In his annual report the president of the Cotton Exchange emphasized the need of a sub-treasury in this city for the benefit of this section. The present difficulty in getting currency with which to move cotton shows how timely his remarks on that subject were. While it is true that if there were a sub-treasury here all the currency needed wouldn't be forthcoming it is probable that the difficulty in getting a quite liberal supply of it would be greatly lessened.

"And there is no doubt that a sub-treasury for this section ought to be in Savannah, for the reason that about all the territory that markets its cotton through this port looks to her banks to supply it with currency with which to handle the crop. When the subject of a sub-treasury for this section comes up again particular attention should be called to this phase of it."

There is no doubt that the sub-treasury would partly meet the needs during the movement of our cotton crop. Logically, Savannah should have one and it might be advisable to have another nearer Wilmington. If we cannot get two, a sub-treasury at Columbia would be of great benefit to at least three cotton exporting ports—Wilmington, Charleston and Savannah.

DRAINAGE OF SWAMP LANDS.

The Raleigh News and Observer of yesterday, referring to Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist and Professor of Mineralogy in the North Carolina University, says:

"Dr. Pratt has been appointed as a delegate to the National Drainage Association, which will meet in Baltimore November 25, 26 and 27. At this meeting the general question of drainage and reclamation of the swamp lands of the country will be taken up. Dr. Pratt says there are approximately 80,000,000 acres of swamp lands in the United States, a large proportion of which can be reclaimed. In North Carolina there are approximately 2,500,000 acres of this land. 750,000 acres of which belongs to the State and is under the control of the State board of education."

North Carolina is specially interested in the movement for the drainage of swamp lands. There is a vast area of such lands in this State and they are immensely fertile. The drainage of such lands would add to the already great productive resources of the State. Some of the best lands in Eastern North Carolina are reclaimed swamp lands and near Wilmington there are some such drained lands that will equal any lands in the Mississippi Delta or in Texas. These reclaimed swamp lands were drained by private owners, of course, but the drainage Association which is to meet in Baltimore will probably discuss some plans for National and State aid in the reclamation of our swamp area.

It is an interesting question, but we would like to know if the drainage of our swamps would affect the climate either adversely or favorably. It is natural to suppose that we would lose some of our humidity and no doubt the rain fall would be affected. Doubtless the temperature would also be affected.

The climate of Southern California, it is said, has been greatly changed by the Salton Sea, the immense body of water which was caused by the change in the course of the Colorado River. It may appear that our swamp area is to us what it is hoped that the Appalachian forest reserve will be to the mountain and piedmont sections of North Carolina. We would like to hear the experts on this feature of the drainage question.

DAM ABOVE NIAGARA FALLS.

Science has made such wonderful progress that most anything is undertaken these times. Now there is a scheme to build a submerged dam across the Niagara river just above Niagara Falls. A disptch from Buffalo, N. Y., says the proposition is receiving the consideration of the International Waterways Commission, and a report favoring the plan will probably be submitted to Congress at its coming session. It is understood that the members of the Commission believe this is the solution to restore the lake levels.

The dam as planned, it is said, to meet objections of practically all interested parties. It is also said such a dam will not affect Niagara's glory. A meeting of the Commission will be held in Buffalo November 20, when the matter will be considered, although it is not expected that Commissioners Haskell and Coste, who have charge of the matter, will have their report complete.

THE OBSERVER'S SCOOP.

The Charlotte Observer on Thursday made a brief announcement that it had added the Rev. Plato Durham to its staff. The Rev. Mr. Durham is a Methodist minister but tendered his resignation to the North Carolina Conference the other day to enter journalism. The pulpit will lose an able, vigorous and brainy young preacher, but certainly journalism will experience a decided acquisition. That is evident from the fact that The Observer has discovered Mr. Durham. The Observer's "Old Man" is good at making discoveries, and it is quite apparent that he has discovered in Mr. Durham a writer of such brilliancy and ability that he laid hands on him. It is a scoop for the Observer.

—A Chicago man has just discovered that he has been legally dead for twelve years. What astonishes him most is to see how well the world is getting along without him.—Washington Post.

—A Miss Johnson, of Kansas City, has built a nine-room house without assistance, but if she ever marries she will probably insist on her husband putting up the screen doors.—Washington Post.

—Big revenue frauds by the whiskey distillers are reported in the Southern States. It is safe to say that the Whiskey trust with its Republican affiliations will escape, and the small distillers will be the only ones punished.—Greensboro Record.

—Score another for the irrepressible Wilmington Star. Hear it: "Says the Greensboro Record: Money is "tight," even if a man cannot get tight—a case where prohibition does not prohibit." This simply opens up the opportunity for the remark that when money is tight it does less talking, wherein it differs from a man when he is tight." Everlasting going some fellow one better.—Salisbury Post.

—We can't understand why southern people, especially those living in this section of the vinyard, will get scared at a Yankee panic and withdraw their money from circulation. The best way to do is to leave your money on deposit and deposit all the rest your can get hold of. The trouble is all over now anyway, and even New York—where all the trouble was—is better now than it was ten or fifteen days ago.—Kinston Free Press.

—At Boston within a week three tradesmen have been convicted of giving insufficient measure or weight and punished in accordance with the law enacted by the legislature of Massachusetts at its last session. One of the culprits was convicted of using false scales. This incident will attract considerable attention wherever the facts in regard to it are published, as there is a growing feeling that something should be done to protect consumers against swindling by the use of manipulated scales or measures.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

—In ordering the legend "In God We Trust" omitted from the new gold coins President Roosevelt committed an act of meddlesomeness almost equal to his simple-spelling performance. It is quite true, as he declares in his public explanation, that this beautiful and solemn motto becomes a subject for jest by reason of its inscription on coins and quite true that most people who combine reverential feeling with good taste will agree with his views, but we submit that he took a good deal upon himself when he decided a matter like this all alone and offhand.—Charlotte Observer.

TWINKLINGS.

—"Mamma! Papa's in the kitchen kissing the cook!" "Never mind, dearie. We may lose her, even at that!"—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

—Lady (to blind beggar)—"Where's the boy who used to lead you a round, my poor man?" Beggar—"Oh, he's gone into business on his own account."—Meggendorfer Blatter.

—"Why is an old joke called a chestnut?" asked the very young man. "Because," answered the home-grown philosopher, "even after it falls to the ground it takes root and springs up again."—Chicago News.

—Housekeeper—"How does it happen, Jane, that you never saw finger bowls before? Didn't they use them in the last place you worked?" Jane—"No, marm; they mostly washed themselves before they came to the table, marm."—Life.

—"Party lines have been largely effaced," "Yes," answered Miss Cayenee; "I don't know much about politics, but it seems to me that the argument is now limited to two classes of people, one preaching prosperity and the other yelling perdiction."—Washington Star.

—"Will you loan me $500 on a house?" the seedy man asked the banker. "I will have to see the house," the banker replied. "That's all I want to know," said the man. "It's perfectly plain to me now that the president's course has destroyed the confidence of the moneyed class. Good morning, sir."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

—Little Mollie (who often becomes reflective at bedtime, and has spent the whole day with her godmother—"Do godparents get punished for their godchildren's sins, mother?" Mother—"No, Mollie." Mollie (with a profound sigh)—"Oh, what a pity. I felt so comfy about it."—Punch.

—Scotland Neck, No.v. 14.—Prohibition prevails in today's election. Out of 254 registered voters 121 voted for and 127 against saloon, the majority being six. Six didn't vote.

What's the Use of paying more for an article through prejudice, than you can buy for less, that's just as good?

Take Whiskey, for Instance.

We make but one charge—just for whiskey—that's all. When you pay more than we ask for our whiskey you are being taxed for something else besides the whiskey.

Now "WHAT'S THE USE" of you paying an excess to anybody for imaginary superiority—when we have the same goods, but are content through immense volumes of sales, to break even on profits—instead of "hikeing up" the price beyond the point of giving you value received.

118 YEARS IN CONGRESS

Seventeen States Have Furnished the Speakers of Our National Legislative Body—North Carolina Had One or More.

(Brooklyn Eagle.

Since the first Congress met in 1789, 118 years ago, there have been 134 sessions of the national body of lawmakers. There have been 119 regular and fifteen extra sesions; thirty-nine different Speakers and Speakers pro tempore and twenty-five clerks The longest regular sitting was the first session of the Fiftieth Congress which met December 5,, 1887, and adjouned October 20, 1888, a period of 321 days. Other long sessions were the first of the Fifty-first Congress, 304 days, and the first of the Thirty-first, 302 days.

The second regular sessions of each Congress are always short, both houses assembling according to law on the first Monday in December and adjourning by limitation on the 4th of the following March. These sessions last from ninety to ninety-five days. Aside from these the shortest ever held was the first session of the Thirteenth Congress, which covered 134 days and came immediately after an extra session. Other notably short sessions were during the Fifteenth Congress, 141 days; the Fifty-eighth, 144 days; the Fourteenth, 148 days; the Eleventh, 156 days, and the Fifty-fifth, 184 days.

Extra sessions are as old as Congress itself, the first having been called together January 4, 1790, a little over three months after the first session ever held came to a close. Next came the extra sesion of the Fifth Congress, then others during the Eleventh and Thirteenth, after which there was a lapse of twenty-four years before it was deemed necessary to meet more than twice in two years. The next extra session came with the Thirty-fourth Congress, nearly fifteen years later.

Others were during the Thirty-seventh, Fortieth, Forty-first, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Fifty-third, Fifty-fifth and Fifty-eight Congresses.

The longest extra session was during the First Congress and continued 221 days. The next was a part of the Fifty-fifth Congres and laster 142 days. The shortest was of ten days' duration, during the life of the Thirty-fourth Congress. Altogether Congress has, since its beginning been in extra session 1,085 days, or about three years.

Only seventeen States have furnished Speakers of the House of Representatives. Pennsylvania leads with five, Massachusetts, Virginia, and Kentucky coming next with four each. Other states have been represented as follows: New York, three; Indiana, three; Tennessee, two; New Jersey, two; Georgia, two; Maine, two; South Carolina, two; and Connecticut, Maryland, North Carolina, Ohio, Iowa and Illinois have each sent a man to the Speaker's chair.

James G. Blaine of Maine was Speaker for eight sessions—longer than any other man ever presided over the deliberations of the House. Schuyler Colfax and Samuel J. Randall each occupied the Speaker's chair for seven sessions, John Bell, of Tennessee was Speaker for ninety-three days, having been elected to fill the unexpired term of Andrew Stevenson, of Virginia. Mr. Bell's term is the shortest on record.

Only two speakers resigned—Henry Clay and Andrew Stevension. Mr. Clay sent in his resignation by mail, October 20, 1820, during a recess, and was succeeded by John W. Taylor, of New York. Mr. Stevenson resigned June 2, 1834, and was succeeded by John Bell.

—Asheville, Nov. 12.—There has been insistent demand here today for a 3-weeks-old infant who was deserted by its mother late yesterday afternoon at the Glen Rock Hotel. The child, however, has been given into the care of a Children's Aid Society and a proper home will be found for it. It seems that about four weeks ago a lady giving her name as "Mrs. C. H. Jonathan, of Florida," arrived in Asheville and registered at the Glen Rock Hotel. She stated that her husband had been unavoidably detained and would come on later. A child was born three weeks ago and although the mother apparently looked and waited for the coming of her husband such a person didn't show up. A nurse was secured and the management of the Glen Rock showed the mother every attention and courtesy. Late yesterday afternoon the mother kissed the infant and gathering up a bundle, left the hotel. She has not since been seen. Today Mr. Lange, of the Glen Rock, received a letter from "Mrs. Jonathan," postmarked Asheville, stating that she had not a dollar; that she was unble to pay board and that she had therefore deserted the infant. The mother intimated that sooner or later she would claim her child. The hotel was stuck for a $60 board bill. Today Mr. Lange has had not less than a dozen inquiries relative to the infant from persons who wanted to adopt it. The little motherless babe has, however, been taken in charge. The woman giving her name as "Mrs. C. H. Jonathan" has received letters and telegrams written November 2d and dated Columbia, S. C. The woman was a very intelligent and apparently well-bred lady. She was strikingly handsome, and when she left the hotel yesterday afternoon it was not suspected that she was going to desert her child.

UNFURLED THE FLAG

Pretty Ceremonies Yesterday by Junior Order, U. A. M.

More than seven hundred public school children, pupils of a single Wilmington institution, cheered to the echo the unfurling of the National colors from a stately flagstaff in front of Union School building, Sixth and Ann streets, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. The patriotic demonstration on the part of the students immediately preceded formal exercises in the assembly room of the large building arranged by the Junior Order of United American Mechanics in honor of the raising of the flag, which was presented to the school some time ago according to the beautiful custom of the fraternity all over the United States. There were present a large number of friends and patrons of the school, many members of the Junior Order of American Mechanics and others attracted thither by the invitations to the general public through the press of the city. The exercises were in every way a success and reflected credit alike upon the order and upon the school.

Among the special guests of the occasion were Superintendent Blair, Rev. J. M. Wells, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Dr. George C. Worth, Mayor Springer and Messrs. James H. Chadbourn, John D. Bellamy, Jr., and C. W. Worth, of the School Committee, and County Treasurer Green. Superintendent Blair and Miss M. E. Cook, principal of the school, presided over the brief exercises arranged in honor of the occasion. The address presenting the flag to the school in behalf of the Juniors, was by Mayor Springer, who spoke of the significance and wide influence of the National colors of the United States. His address was exceptionally well prepared, well delivered and was listened to with great interest. The response in behalf of the school, was by Mr. Bellamy, of the committee. He was very cordial and graceful in his remarks. The children went through the fire drill with Miss Irene Peterson at the piano, and rendered a brief programme of exercises in honor of the visitors. Following the exercises the visitors were shown over all departments of the school and were much impressed with what they saw and heard.

The exercises were in every way a delightful success and reflected great credit upon the Jr. O. U. A. M. committee which was composed as follows: Messrs. H. W. Howell, chairman; W. W. Galloway and Dr. M. H. P. Clark; from Jefferson Davis Council No. 63, E. C. Woodbury, chairman and W. E. Yopp and John E. Wood.

Remains Sent to Columbia.

The remains of the late Mr. W. C. Wright, who died Thursday afternoon at Southport where he had been spending the past year, were brought up to the city at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the steamer Atlantic and were taken on the afternoon train to the home of the family in Columbia, S. C., for interment. The bereaved widow, her brother-in-law and Dr. McIntosh, of Columbia, accompanied the remains from Southport and others met the funeral party here and returned with them to Columbia.

The Violett Meetings.

The series of revival services at Seventh and Orange streets continues with unflagging interest and large congregations are hearing Evangelist Violett with interest and profit. The chorus singing led by Professor J. O. Marks is one of the interesting and helpful features of the services. He leads his large chorus in a masterly way. The special music each night is much enjoyed. His subject tonight will be "Why I Believe in Christ." All are most cordially invited to come at 7:30 o'clock and bring a friend.

LOCAL DOTS.

—There was but one trifling case before the police court yesterday. Several minor affairs were continued until today.

—The river steamers C. W. Lyon and A. J. Johnson were in port yesterday, clearing in the afternoon for the return trip. Both brought very good cargoes of freight and not a few passengers.

—Warrants were issued yesterday from police headquarters for quite a number of delinquent license tax payers. These will be served this morning and so on from day to day until a nearer approach to a clean record is shown on the books.

PRESIDENT FINLEY SPEAKS.

Says Public Service Corporations Should Avoid Politics.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 15.—The Proper Attitude of Public Service Corporations Towards Politics," was the subject of an address by President W. W. Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, at the annual banquet of the Greater Charlotte Club tonight. He declared that participation of corporations in political affairs is not justified and advocated their complete abstinence from such activity. Mr. Finley insisted, however, on the preservation to these corporations of all their rights, and expressed himself in favor of limiting their participation in public matters to the field of fair treatment, protest and argument.

President Finley advocated the application of economic principles in the regulation of railroads and declared that the railway manager who believes, as he does, that the property interests entrusted to his care should be made the object of regulation based on economic and business principles, must see to it that his business is conducted in accordance with those principles.

Mr. Finley predicted a great and prosperous future for North Carolina the people of which State, he said, have shown a high appreciation of their opportunities. Mr. Finley also spoke of the giant strides made by that State following its recovery from the industrial and commercial prostration in which the South was left after the Civil War, and said that in no State in the Union except some of those in the West has the proportionate increase in the production of wealth been greater than in North Carolina.

President Finley referred to the past and future growth of Charlotte and the Piedmont section of the South and pointed out the importance of adequate transportation facilities to the development and prosperity of any locality.

TRIAL OF CALEB POWERS.

Empanelling Jury — Prisoner Was Weak From Illness.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

The Theatre

In the appearance of Mr. Paul Gilmore Monday night the Academy makes one of its most important offerings and a large audience will, no doubt, greet the superb attraction. Seats for the performance go on sale this morning. Of the attraction the Norfolk Landmark has this to say:

"Paul Gilmore in "The Wheel of Love" delighted two good sized audiences at the Academy of Music yesterday, matinee and night. The play is by George V. Hobart, that king of humorous writers more familiarly known, perhaps, as Dingerspeil, a character of his own creation, with which he convulses millions of newspaper readers every day.

"'The Wheel of Love' is a comedy in three acts, with the scenes laid in New York and Texas. A silver mine forms part of the plot, and the girl, of course, forms the other part. The girl is Phyllis Young, who is down on the programme as Eleanor Gravson, Willard Louis, called Horace Sinclair—known as Griz of Texas—in the play scores heavily and is easily second best to the star.

"Paul Gilmore, ever popular on the stage and off, plays Jack Hartley—that is he acknowledges that is his name in the last act. He is known as Horace Sinclair during the first two acts of the play, but when the plot unravels in the final curtain he uncovers the villainy of Eleanor's foster father, assumes his real name, and restores stolen property to the girl. He marries her, of course."

SALE OF STOCKS ENORMOUS

Investors Buying Securities While They are Cheap.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 15.—Never in the history of Wall Street has there been such enormous purchases of securities by investors in odd lots and the transfer books of railroad and industrial corporations stocks show a record breaking number of new shareholders. The present low market prices of Standard securities is responsible.

The New York Central Railroad and several other companies report that the numbers of stockholders have nearly doubled in the last year. The transfer departments of all corporations are working day and night to keep up with their work. Where a transfer of stock is usually effected in two days, delays of a week are now not uncommon.

The distribution of stock to people of moderate means foretells certain relief for the monetary situation, for brokerage houses states today that these purchases are made outright with cash withdrawn from safety deposit valuts or with certified checks. These sums, ranging in amounts from $100 to $10,000, in the aggregate totaling many millions of dollars.

Bankers welcome the small investor, for his appearance betokens a firm conviction that the country's industrial well-being will be maintained.

James L. Carter, who is in charge of the transfer department of J. P. Morgan & Co., said today that the purchasers of small lots of stocks was breaking all records.

Johnson says he will endeavor to secure an Ohio delegation to the National Democratic Convention that will call upon Mr. Bryan again to be Democracy's candidate for the president. Mayor Johnson declares he is not an aspirant for the nomination.

MR. BRYAN'S LEADERSHIP

Watterson Regrets "Dog in Manger" Course of Nebraskan—Would Support Him in Preference to Roosevelt for Third Term.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Boone, Ia., Nov. 15.—Colonel Henry Watterson, asked today by the Associated Press for his opinion on William J. Bryan's tentative acceptance of the Democratic Presidential nomination, declared that he had labored with Bryan to have him decline the nomination and to quiet his "dog in the manger" at this time. Colonel Watterson realized that Bryan had it in his power to demand the leadership of the Democratic party in 1908 or "defeat any other candidate by knifing him as he did Parker."

Bryan's acceptance was no more than he had expected, however greatly he regretted the action, because he thought Bryan could no longer create enthusiasm as he had done before the people too many times.

Asked about the assertion often made as to who the next President would be, Roosevelt or Bryan, Colonel Watterson said that the nomination of Roosevelt was all Bryan supporters wanted, because they could then go to the people on the third term slogan Bryan could carry New England in such a dilemma. He believed, howvelt by such an act would Mexicanize this government, holding himself as greater than Washington.

As for himself, much as he disliked to do so, Colonel Watterson would vote for Bryan against Roosevelt in such a dilemma. He believed, however, that Roosevelt would decline another nomination, as he had nothing to gain and the Republican party had many men of presidential calibre. He mentioned especially Taft, Hughes, and Crane of Massachusetts. He said Senator Crane would make a strong man on the argument that New England had not a President for a long time.

NEGRO MAKING PROGRESS

Optimistic Views by Roosevelt, Bryce and Carnegie.

(By Wire to the Morn'ng Star.)

Washington, Nov. 15.—President Roosevelt, the Hon. James Bryce, British Ambassador, and Mr. Andrew Carnegie delivered addresses reflecting pronounced optimism as to the future of the negro, race here today. The occasion was the installation of Rev. Wilbur Patterson Thirkield as president of Howard University and the celebration of the 40th anniversary of the founding of that institution which is devoted primarily to the higher education of the negro.

President Roosevelt admits the hardships encountered by the negro in his efforts towards advancement, but urged that they be looked upon rather as a privilege and as stimulating great effort for which the reward would be equally, great. Mr. Bryce pointed to the development of the race during the past forty years as being marvelous compared with the development of the Anglo-Saxon race. It was for Mr. Carnegie to awaken unrestrained enthusiasm by his declaration that it was not now the question "what shall we do with the nigger," but "how can we get more of them?"

Mr. Carnegie completed his triumph of popularity by showing in conclusion that the race in America had acquired title to estates in America during the past forty years larger than Belgium and Holland combined.

Many prominent personages participated in the ceremonies, representing government officials and the clergy and educators. The exercises were held in Andrew Rankin Chapel of the University group.

FASTEST BOAT IN THE WORLD

Great Britain Has Warship Which Beats Record.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Nov. 15.—Great Britain, not content with possessing the largest warship in the world in the Dreadnaught, has constructed the fastest fighting craft destroyer in the Mohawk. On her official trial in the North sea today the Mohawk mantained for six hours a mean speed of 34 1-4 knots and hour. In six runs over a measured mile she travelled at the rate of 34 1-2 knots an hour. This is equal to forty miles. The Mohawk is gitted with steam turbines and a water tube boiler using oil.

—Greensboro, Nov. 14—At a largely attended session of the North Carolina Case Workers Asociation, representing ninety-five per cent of the output of North Carolina furniture factories it was decided to reduce the output by curtailing hours from ten to eight hours per day, excepting in places where employes preferred working five ten hour days in the week laying off one day. The question of shutting down was discussed but not seriously considered. The Association also discussed but did not favor suggestions of curtailing products by selling at reduced prices, but resolved to continue manufacturing goods and storing them until the market opened better. There is considerable depression in the market, and collections are said to be fifty per cent below the average at this season, but the manufacturers seem confident of brighter times in the near future. There will be no shutting down of plants or discharge of employes in the factories. It is understood that all the High Point factories will adopt the plan of eight hours per day, leaving to other localities the plan of working five days in the week if they prefer.

SUICIDE MADE HIS WILL.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 15.—Mortally wounded by his own hand, Charles Tracey Barney, summoned his family and lawyers to his bedside and after calmly reviewing his business and private affairs and giving minute expression of his wishes in certain matters, dictated and signed a will in which his wife was made the principal beneficiary. A half hour after the lawyers withdrew, the former head of the Knickerbocker Trust Company was dead.

This became known today through a statement made by Albert S. Milbank, of the law firm of Masten & Nichols, Mr. Barney's personal attorneys ,and explains the presence at the house when the coroner arrived yesterday of Arthur H. Masten and Geo. L. Nichols, the firm members. It was given out at the house following the death of Barney yesterday that the dying man had said nothing further than the remark, repeated later by Dr. George A. Dixon, "Doctor, this is an accident." It is believed that the estate at present will net $2,500,000. Under the provisions of a previous will Barney made disposition of from $7,000,000 to $9,000,000.

In yesterday's will the banker directed that his estate should be incorporated and administered by a board of trustees chosen from his former associates in the directorate of the now suspended Knickerbocker Trust Company. Barney directed that his wife should be the chief beneficiary after his debts were paid.

Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst called at the Barney home today. Upon leaving he announced that private funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon. The interment will be in Woodlawn.

The Knickerbocker Trust Company Depositors' committee met today and organized by electing Hinsdell Parsons general counsel, and vice president of the General Electric Company, chairman, and William Butler Duncan, Jr., treasurer.

Resolutions expressing regret over the death of Mr. Barney were adopted.

IS BOYCOTTING LEGAL?

Suit Against Federation of Labor Involves Question.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 15.—The hearing of arguments in the case of the Buck Stove and Range Company, of St. Louis against the American Federation of Labor, involving the fight of labor organizations to print an "unfair" list of business concerns and individuals, was resumed in the district Supreme Court today. Attorney Daniel Davenport, of Bridgeport, Conn., argued for the plaintiff company and Attorney J. H. Ralston of this city for the Federation. The former contended that the boycotting of the plaintifl company by the Federation was a flagrant violation of the law, which had brought great damage to the company's business and the latter claimed that the Federation had the right to print in its official organ the names of those they believed to be unjust and unfair to labor.

RAILROAD LEGISLATION

Alabama Legislature to Class Railroads in That State.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 15.—The Senate committee on temperance today agreed to report favorably the prohibition bill already passed by the House, with an amendment that all counties voting "dry" by December 12th are to be "dry", after January 1st, and in counties voting after that date the law is not to go into effect until October 1st.

The Senate passed the railroad classification bill. An amendment providing for a court review was defeated. The bill establishes four classes of railroads in Alabama and divides commodities of freight into groups. The Louisville and Nashville Railroad and its allied lines are in the first class and the Alabama Great Southern Railroad is lowered from the first to the third class. The bill went to the House today.

BIG RAILROAD STRIKE

Engineers on Georgia Branch of Southern Will Go Out.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 15.—A. F. Burgess, assistant grand commander of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, stated that the advisory board meeting with him this afternoon voted to call a strike on the Georgia Railroad. Later a joint meeting was held and a vote taken on the question.

"This was the first vote in the history of the organization which is absolutely unanimous to strike," said Mr. Burgess.

He says the time set for the strike is a secret but will not be within 18 hours from midnight. For any longer time than that he cannot speak. The strike may spread to other roads he said.

SOMETHING WRONG WITH SUN.

Great Outburst of Flame From the Surface.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Oxford, England, Nov. 15.—A remarkable outburst on the Sun was observed by Professor Ambu, director of the Radcliffe observatory at 11:45 this morning. An immense flame shot up at the rate of over 10,000 miles a minute until it reached a height of 325,000 miles. At 10 minutes past 12 it broke into fragments and disappeared.

Emperor William is continuing his work toward the creation of friendly feelings on the part of Englishmen toward Germany and it is now seen that this purpose is the unconcealed object of his visit to England. The Emperor took advantage of another opportunity yesterday when accepting the degree of Doctor of Laws from Oxford University. In his address he expressed his admiration of the Rhodes scholarship system, which he said, helped to create an atmosphere of mutual self-respect and friendship between the two countries.

Two years ago Walter Bowne sold his membership on the New York Exchange to W. Thompson Starr for $95,000. The transfer of that membership back to Mr. Bowne from Mr. Starr for $53,000 was recorded yesterday. The price paid by Mr. Starr was the highest on record and the selling price the lowest in several years.

At Iuka, Miss., Conductor Mars and Engineer Armstrong and the entire crew of freight train on the Southern Railway were arrested yesterday and held in jail nine hours because the train ran over and killed Walter McKinney, a well known citizen of Iuka. Division Superintendent Heather went to Iuka and secured the release of the trainmen. McKinney was struck by the engine as the train was passing through the town.

IN A SUBMARINE.

What Happens as the Vessel Takes the Plunge Beneath the Sea.

Under ordinary conditions as soon as the hood is closed and the plunge the captain opens the valves and a quantity of water enters, making the ship heavy enough to sink, rushes into the reservoirs located at the sides of the vessel. Even the most hardened of the sailors say that the noise of the water rushing into the boat gives a lugubrious impression, and it requires men gifted with cool heads and possessing tested courage for the hazards involved in operating these little boats. But, in spite of their fragile appearance, they are terrible instruments of war, and notwithstanding their diminutive size they are controlled by twelve men, each of whom is indispensable to their navigation.

The hood once closed, the submarine is absolutely cut off from the world. Its shell, calculated to support a pressure of seven or eight atmospheres, gives it the ability in theory to go down to a distance of thirty to forty meters, but in practice it is considered sufficient to drop to a depth of fifteen meters, and at such a level it is in no danger of being flooded. The most strongly armored vessels of the ordinary type extend downward only ten meters.

The vessel is directed by two vertical governors, one above and one below the stern, as they are always placed on submarines. To govern the coming up and going down of a boat there are two horizontal governors, one at the stern and one at the bow.—Metropolitan Magazine.

Not to Be Fooled.

A resident of a New England town who was noted for his great kindness to animals viewed the first horse cars with dismay. "It's sheer cruelty, that's what it is," he insisted, and the plea of convenience or necessity had no influence upon him.

"I'd walk to Boston and back before I'd add a pound's weight to what those poor creatures have to drag," he declared, and no persuasion could induce him to ride in a street car dragged by overworked, tired horses. When electricity was applied and the cars went smoothly along without the horses, his son said:

"Now, father, you can ride on the street cars without worrying about horses. You can go into Boston at your ease now."

"James," said the old man, "you always rush at conclusions. You don't study into things as I do. Don't I read in the papers about every car having to have so much horsepower? And don't I know well enough what that means?" And the old gentleman sighed. "It simply means, my son, that the poor horses are being worked just as hard and just as many hours, only we don't see 'em.

"Those power houses could tell tales, I reckon. No, I've no more use for street cars now than I ever had, and for the same reason."—Youth's Companion.

Barber's Hair Cut.

"Wished I had time to go out and get my hair cut," remarked a barber as he removed part of the lather from the customer's lips with his second finger.

"Time to go out and get it cut?" repeated the man in the chair, with the emphasis on "out." "Are you like the man that won't eat in his own restaurant? Aren't you willing to trust one of your own men to cut your hair?"

"Oh, I'd trust them, all right!" said the barber. "It isn't that, but you hardly ever see a barber getting his hair cut in his own place. The other barbers all like to go home promptly at quitting time, and if one of us gets work done during the day there is sure to be a rush about that time, and it makes a customer 'sore' if he has to wait with two barbers right here and not waiting on him. He doesn't like to wait around while one barber cuts another barber's hair."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. YOU LIKE IT

YOU are not a shoemaker, so there's no need of going into an analysis of the construction of the "Queen Quality" Shoe. But the fact remains that it satisfies over two million wearers. They know they like it; that it gives style to the foot; that it gives comfort the first day worn. And that is enough. It holds its shape longer than other ready made shoes because it fits. Yet the enormous business done on "Queen Quality" Shoes keeps the prices moderate.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Raleigh News and Observer, Nov. 15.—It has just become known here that a strong company has been formed to publish a morning paper in Salisbury and that its backers are some of the best known newspaper men in the State with a prominent newspaper man from the North.

—Fayetteville Observer, Nov. 14.—A telegram from Chapel Hill this morning conveyed the news that our young townsman, Mr. Robert McNeill, a student at the University, is extremely ill with pneumonia. Capt. J. D. McNeill, Miss Mary McNeill and Mrs. Jas. S. McNeill left on the noon train today for Chapel Hill in consequence of the distressing news.

—Rockingham, Nov. 14.—Rockingham is to have a very handsome opera house to be built by the Rockingham Development Company. A very desirable lot adjoining the bank of Pee Dee has been purchased. The building will cost about $25,000. Mr. W. C. Leak is president and Mr. W. B. Cole, secretary and treasurer. Rockingham will also have three new handsome brick residences those of Messrs. R. L. Steele, H. D. Ledbetter and George S. Steele .

—Rockingham, Nov. 14.—Hannah Pickett Mill, one of the handsmest mills in this section of the State, has been completed and is now running. Mr. W. B. Cole is secretary and treasurer. The mill is built of concrete blocks and is one of the first mills in the East to use a gas engine, which is said to be much more economical than coal. The Rockingham Lumber Company has been incorporated and has built quite a nice plant on the Seaboard Air Line Railway here. Mr. J. A. Marks is one of the leading stockholders and is manager.

—Raleigh News and Observer, Nov. 15.—Deputy Collectoirs K. W. Merritt and R. F. Henry and Special Gauger W. A. Stancil, yesterday returned to Raleigh and report a number of successful raids. Last Tuesday near Brower's Mill, in Moore county they seized an illicit distillery of fifty gallons capacity and captured two gallons of liquor, destroying the plants, the operators getting away. Saturday night Deputy Collector B. L. Cox captured a sixty gallon distillery within five miles of the one at Brower's Mill. This plant had sixteen fermenters and eight hundred gallons of beer were poured out, but there were no captures.

—Tarboro Southerner—Brick and other material for building the basement to the new Presbyterian church are being assembled. Work of laying them will soon begin. It is expected to complete the concrete foundation work before the regular cold weather sets in. The work on the church proper will begin next spring. When completed it will be one of the handsomest churches in this section of the State. The cost of construction will be paid by the children of the late Judge Howard and the congregation, the former paying two-thirds or three-fourths, as a memorial to their beloved parent. The church will be called the Howard Memorial Presbyterian Church, and will cost nearly $15,000.

—Wilson, Nov. 14.—Last night there was a meeting of the stockholders of The Wilson Publishing Company in the offices of Barnes & Dickinson. It will be remembered that this new enterprise was chartered a few weeks since by about forty of Wilson's most influential and substantial citizens with a paid capital of $5,400. Appeals for additional stock made to the company will run the aggregate to quite $10,000. The following gentlemen were unanimously elected as staff of the new paper—which will be an afternoon publication: J. O. Foy, editor-in-chief; R. B. Evans, city editor and advertising solicitor; A. B. Carroll, general business manager. A handsome new two-story brick building has been leased in the business center of the city, in easy access to our business men and the traveling public. "The Messenger," a weekly publication has been purchased by this new company. When the new daily has been named The Messenger will be the weekly edition to that paper and bear its name."

—Greensboro, Nov. 14.—Some kind hearted merchants here seem to be flush of cash in pocket as well as Mr Charles Van Noppen and hotel proprietor Clegg, who were both buncoed this week by sharps. Tuesday a traveling man who had formerly represented Heinzes pickling company was here and approached three grocer customers for fifteen dollars cash and got it advanced without even the formality of a check. Yesterday they found that the drummer had recently been discharged, and was simply working his old friends and his old territory for all it was worth. A genuine representative of the firm was here today and informed these grocers of their being "buncoed" saying that he had been following the "sleek duck" two days in an effort to catch up with him. It would appear that te firm would have done better to have sent out a general warning to its customers by wire at the first intimation of crooked work on the part of its former trusted representative. Nobody knows how many grocers got caught, but only three have squealed.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over 60 years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success it soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other.

PANBESA'S LETTER.

An Account of an Egyptian City Thirty Centuries Ago.

Probably the oldest letter in the world is the letter of Panbesa, written fifteen centuries before Christ to his friend, Amenemapt, a scribe.

The manuscript is of perishable papyrus, and it is amazing that it should have survived for more than thirty centuries and still be legible.

It is preserved in the collection of the British museum. It has been several times translated. It presents an interesting picture of life in Egypt in the time of Rameses II. It is more in the nature of a literary production, a poem composed in celebration of the visit of Pharaoh to the city of Pa-Rameses, than an ordinary letter of today.

Panbesa "greets his lord, the scribe Amenemapt, to whom be life, health and strength," and then goes on to describe the verdant fields, the thrashing floors, the vineyards, the groves of olives, the orchards of figs, the great daily markets, with their fish and waterfowl and swarms of purchasers.

The citizens had their "sweet wine of Khemi, pomegranate wine and wine from the vineyards," and to these they added "beer of Kati."

There was music in plenty furnished by the singers of the school of Memphis.

On the whole, Pa-Rameses seems to have been a pleasant place to live in. "The lesser folk are there equal with the great folk," and Panbesa writes that its maidens were "in holiday attire every day," with locks "redolent of perfumed oil."

THE CITY OF CANALS.

Venice and the Many Islands Upon Which It Is Built.

Venice is one of the most singular and famous cities in Europe and is built upon a cluster of islands in the lagoon. This lagoon is banked off from the Adriatic by a long, narrow sand bank which is divided into a number of islands, six in number. Inside of this sand bank and between it and the mainland is the lagoon, a sheet of shallow water. In parts of this marshy, sea covered plain islets have become consolidated into ground, firm enough to be cultivated.

And in the midst of a crowded cluster of such islands, amounting to between seventy and eighty in number, the city of Venice is built. The chief of these islands is called Isolda de Rialto, or Island of the Deep Stream. The islands, in many places mere shoals, afford no adequate foundation for buildings, and the city for the most part is built upon an artificial foundation of piles and stones.

The Grand canal divides Venice into two equal parts and is the main thoroughfare for traffic and pleasure. The city is subdivided by some one hundred and forty-six small canals or water streets, and the gondola is used for the carriage. Access can also be had to various parts of the city by land, there being over three hundred bridges across canals. The Rialto, the most famous bridge, spans the Grand canal. There are also narrow lanes in among the houses.

The Overruling of a Judge.

A judge once awoke in the night to find his room in the possession of two armed burglars. Covered by the pistol of one of the marauders, the judge watched the proceedings with his usual judicial calm. One of the depredators found a watch. "Don't take that," the judge said; "it has little value and is a keepsake." "The motion is overruled," replied the burglar. "I appeal," rejoined the judge. The two burglars consulted, and the spokesman then replied: "The appeal is allowed. The case coming on before a full tribunal of the supreme court, that body is of the unanimous opinion that the decree of the lower court should be sustained, and it is accordingly so ordered." Pocketing the watch, court adjourned.

Logic and Metaphysics.

Joaquin Miller was once conversing with a learned professor who was visiting California. To the poet's query, "What do you do?" the professor answered that he held the chair of metaphysics and logic at a New England university. Whereupon the venerable Miller, with an encouraging smile, reassuringly patted the professor on the shoulder. "Logic and metaphysics, eh? Well, I suppose we must have people to look after those things, even if they don't exist."

Torture.

"The Carthaginian mercenaries," he said, "incased their prisoners in a cement that as it hardened contracted. You can't imagine how uncomfortable this was."

"Oh, yes, I can," she answered. "I once had on a tight bathing suit when it began to shrink." — Los Angeles Times.

Plenty of Old Ones.

Mr. Chipps (looking up from the paper)—The doctors have discovered another new disease. Mrs. Chipps—Well, I wish they'd stop looking for new diseases long enough to find a cure for my old rheumatism. — London Telegraph.

Both Disappointed.

He—I suppose, then, we may as well break the engagement and say we have both been disappointed in love. She—There seems to be no other conclusion. You thought I had money, and I certainly thought you had.—Judge.

He Told Her.

She—I wish I knew how I could make you extremely happy, dear Karl. He—Well, write to your father and ask him to double your dowry.—Meggendorfer Blatter.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New oYrk, Nov. 15.—The stock market took on the appearance of quite severe depression again today and sold down for some stocks to a new low level for the year. Liquidation was not large in volume but it was apparently urgent, and there was no pressing demand to absorb it.

New York Central was the easiest stock to be affected, responding to the published reports of the formation of a finance committee to consider the further acts of the company and the methods by which they were to be met. The United States Steel stocks continued to feel the effects of the growing evidence of reaction in that trade and this was of cumulative effect on the whole list, owing to the importance attached to the iron trade as an index of general industrial financial conditions. Later in the day the Harriman Pacifics were brought into the depression by the publication of the earnings of the companies for September.

Opinion on the general situation was distinctly brighter, in spite of the apparent gloom that over spread the stock market. The premium on currency was inclined to relax and bids were not in evidence in some quarters where the demand has made itself clear but in the premium operations. Estimates of the week's cash movement indicate a moderate loss by the banks owing to the contiued heavy shipments to the interior but an improved bank position is expected owing to lack of reflection of the early gold imports in last week's bank statement.

Bonds were weak. Total sales, par value were $3,152,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks for the day, 775,600 shares.

THE COTTON MARKET

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 15.—The cotton market was easier today, closing at a net decline of 4 to 15 points on all months except November, which was not unchanged. Sales were estimated at 175,000 bales.

The market opened steady at a decline of 3 to 5 points in response to disappointing cables and while there seems to have been some support at first there was no rally of consequence and the general tendency was downward, the lowest point being reached in the afternoon when January sold at 9.92 and March 10.01, or 18 points net lower. Unfavorable trade reports and weakness in Wall Street seemed to be the main bearish factors for there was not a sign of weakening on the part of the December bull pool, and while there was circulated in the afternoon a rumor that loans had been called on cotton in the local stock this was promptly denied and nothing developed in the later trading to indicate such a condition. Most of the private wires from the South reported steadiness on the part of holders and there seems to be some demand for spot cotton for November shipment and possibly for delivery on December contract here, which is a sustaining factor for the time being. Most of the private cables from Liverpool express a favorable opinion of the market notwithstanding the lower quotations received from there, but one cable received late in the day stated that the Oldham masters were refusing to advance wages and there was every possibility of a strike in Lancashire. Other cables said there was no strike probable.

Receipts at the ports, 58,019 bales against 65,545 last week and 67,472 last year. For the week 360,000 bales against 363,976 last week and 413,341 last year. Today's receipts at Houston 10,168 bales against 19,331 last year.

Spot cotton closed steady 10 points lower; middling uplands 10.70; middling gulf 10.95; sales 2,400 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 15.—The dry goods jobbing market holds fairly steady under all the circumstances and retailers are sending in spring orders with some freedom. In the primary market dry goods were quiet today the financial situation being the chief deterrent factor.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 15.—Sales in the printcloth market are estimated at 25,000 pieces. General dullness prevails in the local cloth market. Orders booked this week were of small lots for spot or nearby deliveries. The American Printing Company, which concern has been holding out for a bid of 5 1-4 for regulars for the past three or four weeks and which has helped materially in sustaining prices for narrow goods withdrew this bid from the market early in the week. Since then, however, prices have continued unchanged from last week's quotations. It is reported that mills are being somewhat disturbed by buyers cancelling contracts and some of them wanting to put off deliveries. The following prices are generally nominal. 28 inch, 64 square, 5 1-4; 28 inch, 64 by 60, 6 1-2; 38 1-2 inch, 64 by 64, 6 1-2; 39 inch, 68 by 72, 7 1-4.

COTTON

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 15.—Some misapprehension seems to have been created by my advertised offer published on Thursday, to supply cash, at the current premium against New York Exchange or advance 90 per cent. of the prospective proceeds against cotton shipped to New York for delivery on December contracts. An impression has gained currency that this offer was made with a view of inducing holders of cotton in the South to sell and so depress the market. Such is not the case and although I personally expect lower prices for cotton, I have no desire to impose my views upon others to whom they are not agreeable. I would therefore point out to those who are holding cotton in the expectation of higher prices, that the operation will be rendered really more economical for them, if they ship that cotton to New York, believe on December contracts and purchase, instead of the cotton so delivered, contracts for May delivery. At this writing cotton can be sold for December delivery in New York at 10.43 cents per pound, basis middling New York, contract terms, and cotton can be bought for May delivery, i.e. five months later, on the same terms at 10.20 cents per pound. The difference between the two quotations to equal to $1.15 per bale. The cost of carrying cotton including storage, insurance, loss in weight and interest at 6 per cent. for the five months is hardly less than $2.50 per bale. This makes a total stving of $3.65 a bale to those who intend holding cotton for advance and are so holding the actual cotton at present. In other words, a planter or a merchant who at present is holding one hundred bales of cotton in the expectation of realizing 12 or 15 cents a pound for it, will increase his profits, if his hopes are justified, by exactly $365. If he now sells his cotton for December delivery in New York and purchases cotton for May delivery in New York instead. He will in addition relieve the financial situation by making the proceeds of the cotton he sells immediately available in cash and will furthermore increase the probability of higher prices in the Spring, as of course no actual scarcity in the supply "however small the crop" can be felt until next May or June and the less cotton there is at that time for sale the higher the market will go.

THEODORE PRICH.

COTTON

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 13.—With a view of facilitating the movement of cotton and thereby relieving the financial stringency, I beg to announce that I am prepared to purchase at the current premium any currency which may be ordered either by mail or wire by bankers and merchants of the South. The premium on currency in New York today is three per cent, for silver dollars and four per cent for gold and small bills. It fluctuates from day to day. Reimburse for such purchases can be made either by remittance of draft or check collectable in New York clearing house funds or by the shipment of cotton for delivery here upon December contracts. Against such consignments I am prepared subject to arrangement by telegraph to advance ninety per cent of the prospective proceeds of sale and delivery. December contracts this evening close at 10.43 the approximate cost of delivering cotton after its arrival in New York is sixty-five cents a bale. Al grades above low middling, stained and good ordinary white, are deliverable at the current differences established by the New York Cotton Exchange which, however, may possibly be changed slightly at the revision of grade differences to be decided upon Nov. 20th. If cotton be shipped in payment for currency such currency will be promptly forwarded by express at the risk and cost of consignee immediately upon receipt of bills of lading and invoices for the cotton so shipped. If it be not insured by the shipper, marine or inland insurance will be provided by me for account of the parties making such shipment but at their cost. The average charge for such insurance is 1-8 to 3-16th of one per cent. and is in addition to the sixty-five cents a bale required to cover the cost of delivery here as above stated. If currency shipments be desired against New York Exchange remittance of such exchange can be made by mail or current balances with clearing house banks in New York can be ordered paid me by telegraph in which case the currency will be shipped the same day. I shall make no charge for my services in the premises, my object being to relieve the abnormal financial situation to the best of my ability. I invite correspondence either by mail or wire in regard to the above.

THE WHISKEY WITH ANCESTRY

INSANITY PLEA FOR MRS. BRADLEY

HE DOMINATED HIS SLAYER

Pistol With Which He Was Killed Was Given to Woman to Murder Mrs Brown—Prosecution Chrnges Deliberate Murder.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 15.—That the defense of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, on trial in Criminal Court No. 1, on the charge of murdering former United States Senator Brown, would be insanity, was made evident beyond question by the preliminary statement made to the court today by her attorney, Mr. Hoover.

The prosecution consumed the entire forenoon in concluding the examination of its witnesses in chief to prove the facts of the killing and when it rested the case, Mr. Hoover followed with his preliminary outline of the case for the defense. He detailed the principal events of Mrs. Bradley's life and entered minutely into the circumstances with her intimacy with Mr. Brown, saying that it would be proved that she was completely under his domination and forecasting testimony which would be adduced to show that she was mentally irresponsible when she fired the fatal shot. He also said it would be shown that Mr. Brown had performed more than one criminal act upon her with his own hands and that he had presented her with the pistol with which she had killed him, telling her that she should use it upon his wife if she gave her trouble. According to Mr. Hoover's statement it will also be sown that there is a taint of insanity in Mrs. Bradley's family.

The testimony presented today by the prosecution was all intended to show premeditation on the part of Mrs. Bradley in killing Senator Brown It was stated that she had told members of the police force in this city immediately after her arrest that she had not acted upon any sudden impulse, and one witness from Salt Lake City was introduced to testify to the circumstance that she had told him six months before the tragedy that she intended to kill Mr. Brown if he did not legitimize her children by marrying her. Another witness from that city told of two efforts by Mrs. Bradley to invade Mr. Brown's house, supposedly with hostile intent. Max Brown, the son of the deceased Senator, was on the stand for a few moments during the day.

The court adjourned at 2 o'clock until next Monday. It is understood that when the trial is resumed the State will stubbornly antagonize Mrs. Bradley's plea of insanity and that much rebutting testimony will be introduced.

TERRIBLE DEED OF NEGRO GIRL

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New Orleans, Nov. 15.—Wearing a silk underskirt and other clothes of her dead mistress, Clara Barrow, a negress about 18 years of age, was today arrested on the charge of having murdered Mrs. Bessie Carter at the latter's residence in the old French quarter of New Orleans last night. The girl, who had long been employed as a confidential maid of Mrs. Carter, was the first to give the alarm and was suspected by the police soon after they began an investigation. When put through a "sweating process" today she broke down and acknowledged it was she who had taken a hatchet and inflicted the ghastly wounds in Mrs. Carter's neck and head.

SEAT FOR EACH PASSENGER

Georgia Court Defines Duty of Common Carriers.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 15.—"A common carrier does not fulfill its legal duty until it provides a seat for each passenger," is the decision rendered today by the Georgia Court of Appeals. The decision was rendered in a suit for damages brought against the Georgia Electric and Railway Company of Atlanta bl Dr. Oscar Lyndon, who it is alleged, was injured by the sudden starting of car in which he was standing.

"There can be no question," the decision continues, "that it is one of the duties of a common carrier to furnish its passengers with seats and such failure to furnish a seat may be proximate cause of an injury."

The safe in the postoffice at Seneca, S. C., was blown open Thursday night and $800 in stamps and $200 in currency taken.

Strange Case of Wife of Milwaukee Millionaire—Dominated by Negro Burglar and Shared in His Crimes—Sentence.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Evelyn Romadka, who is the wife of a wealthy merchant of Milwaukee, and who was recently indicted for burglary and larceny, was today sentenced to the penitentiary for from one to twenty years, by Judge Bentano. Her counsel declared in court that she was being "railroaded" to prison for the purpose of shielding other persons. The trial lasted eleven minutes.

Mrs. Romadka was convicted of being accessory to the burglaries and larcenies of Albert Jones, a negro. She was arrested while wearing jewels stolen from the home of a restaurant keeper. How a woman of her social position came to share in the plunder of the crimes of Jones has never been explained. Jones is now in jail awaiting trial.

Has An Ethiopian Soul.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Evelyn Romadka, wife of the Milwaukee Millionaire, awaiting trial here on five indictments for burglary, has an Ethopian soul, Dr. Alex Gustafson says. The doctor is the alienist who has treated the young woman in jail.

Mrs. Romadka gave up a home of luxury in Milwaukee to come to Chicago and consort with negro ex-convicts. Although living in an expensive apartment in a fashionable hotel and supplied with all the money she needed by her husband, she became a female Raffles robbing rich homes of jewelry and giving them to her negro partner in crime. After her arrest she raved in jail, calling her husband "white trash" and pleading for the companionship of negroes.

"I am sure," said the alienist, "that this woman is possessed by an Ethiopian spirit, which has absolute control over her actions. She is absolutely innocent of wrongdoing, except when this spirit overpowers her will and forces her to do its bidding."

Dr. Gustafson advised the young woman's attorney to have her face trial on a plea of "obsessional insanity" brought about by the spirit of an Ethiopian criminal having entered her body.

Dr. Sheldon Leavitt, confirming Dr. Gustafson's views, said: "While I realize that I will be disagreed with by members of the orthodox school of medicine, I cannot but think that this woman is possessed with devils. When she is herself she is all that a woman should be, but at times her personality is overpowered."

STREET CAR MEN ON STRIKE

Several Hundred at Louisville Demand Increased Pay.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 15.—The union men employed by the Louisville Street Railway Company went on strike today for an increase in wages and the reinstatement of several discharged men. The company employes 4,100 men of whom 900 are members of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway employes. A few cars were loaded with police. Suburban cars are at a standstill. The disorderly element was in evidence shortly after noon, At Second and Chesnut streets, obstructions were placed on the rails and another barricade composed of stones, tree boxes and logs was built across the street at Floyd and Wall streets. A crowd of 200 persons hooted the police who were called upon to remove the obstructions. Sixteen arrests have been made at noon. The police regulations in the down town district were so rigid that nobody was permitted to stand for a moment at any street corner.

ALASKA FOR SECRETAY TAFT

Republican Convention Endorses Ohioan for President.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Juneau, Alaska, Nov. 15.—The endorsement of William H. Taft for the Presidency and a ringing demand for home rule are the salient features of the platform reported at today's session of the Alaskan Republican convention.

The platform directs the delegates to be chosen to the National Republican convention next year to support Secretary Taft for President. The administration of President Roosevelt is endorsed. The platform insists that Alaska will be entitled to the benefits of the ordinance 1887 and the compact between the original 13 States of the union as affecting the rights of other territories to home rule, Congress is asked to grant subsidies to encourage the construction of Alaskan railways but to maintain full government control.

NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION.

House Blown to Pieces and Twenty-five Persons Injured.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 15.—About 25 persons were injured today, two fatally, and a dwelling house was torn to pieces, when an explosion of natural gas occurred in a house located at No. 103 Elm street, this city. In the fire which followed two firemen were severely burned. About fourteen other persons in the neighborhood received injuries. Apparently gas had been leaking in a kitchen stove all night. Early today when a match was struck in the lower portion of the house to light the stove there was a terrific explosion. The house was torn to pieces. The roof was blown high into the air and the front and rear of the dwelling collapsed. Mrs. Grossman and Jacob Bergerman, a boarder, apparently received the full force of the explosion both being blown from their beds through the roof. They were fatally injured by the subsequent fall and fire.

FEDERATION OF LABOR UNIONS

Secretary Reports Balance on Hand of $127,910 An Increase of $16,369.

PARCELS POST LAW FAVORED

Believed That It Will Give Relief From Express Company Monopolies. Benefits of Unionism to Taught to Immigrants.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 15.—The American Federation of Labor today approved the annual report of its secretary, Marrison, which showed a balance on hand October 1st, 1907, of $127,910, this being an increase of $19,369 over the year 1906.

The Federation adopted resolutions as follows:

Directing its legislatve committee to use every influence to bring about action in the Sixtieth Congress for the increase of postoffice clerks' pay.

Starting a campaign to expedite and systematize the regulation of convict labor.

Authorizing the executive council to deal with the question of appointing organizers to teach immigrants in their own language the ideas of unionism and asking that the "theatrical syndicates" be included as amenable under the anti-trust laws "in restraint of trade."

Resolutions calling upon Congress to give Navy Yard employes injured while in pursuit of their duty the same remedy at law in damages as injured by persons in private employment, and those calling for the legalizing of such half holiday for Navy Yard employes in July, August and September of each year were referred back to committees for revision so as to include all classes of Government employes.

The Federation rejected the resolution calling for the building and repairing of all government owned vessels in navy yards.

New resolutions presented call for 12 hours work only out of each 24 by all masters, pilots and engineers on American vessels; an investigation of the telegraph companies; Federal officials to have charge of all national campaign funds; States to defray all preliminary election expenses; debarring from labor unions all not qualified to vote; election of all judges, State and Federal, by the people; building and maintenance of a Federal sanitarium; every possible war against the American Tobacco Company; to abolish objectionable efficiency cards in navy yards; compelling all railroad and transportation tickets be made interchangeable; preventing injunctions against ticket scalpers, and calling for Federal laws against any combination producing artificial scarcity in white paper for newspapers.

DUN & CO'S. REVIEW OF TRADE.

Gold Receipts and More Bank Notes Giving Relief.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 15.—R. G. Dun & Co's. Weekly Review of trade tomorow will say:

"Liberal receipts of gold from abroad and a large increase in bank note circulation tend to relieve the financial stress at New York but the interior is now feeling the scarcity of currency, and commercial activity is retarded to some extent. Dispatches from leading cities indicate conservatism in preparation for future business and irregularity in collections with most favorable news from agricultural sections in which the crops are being marketed as freely as the supply of money will permit. Return to normal conditions will be hastened by large exports of farm products supplying credits abroad upon which the much-needed gold may be imported.

Primary markets for cotton goods are quiet, although the mills are still well occupied following old contracts. Reports of the closing of woolen mills should not be given undue significance, more or less idle machinery being customary at this time of the year, and no additional new business is to be expected until clothiers begin to send duplicate orders.

Miss Wheeler is administratrix of the estate.
